

100 years of scouting in Elloughton-cum-Brough

Elloughton-cum-Brough Scout Group held a parade and thanksgiving service in November to celebrate 100 years of Scouting in the villages. About 80 youngsters from the Beaver, Cub, Scout and Explorer Sections marched with their Leaders from The Half Moon Pub in Elloughton. The parade was led by the Boys Brigade Band playing tunes as varied as Queen hits and classic favourites. The sun shone as they arrived at Brough Methodist Church where each section proudly carried their flags into the church.

Scout group: Following the centenary service the members of Elloughton-cum-Brough Scout Group assembled for a group photograph outside Brough Methodist Church.

Old and new: The service included the cutting of a centenary birthday cake specially prepared and decorated for the occasion. The cake was cut by Ken Watson, an ex-Scout from the 1940s, and Joshua Parker, a member of the Beaver Colony.

The service led, by Rev Kathie Heathcoat, was also attended by many ex-Scouts and Leaders from times gone by. Refreshments were served afterwards in the church social hall. A large display of photographs and memorabilia brought back fond memories for many providing plenty to talk about.

A special mention goes to Group Scout Leader Jean Butler who put in many hours to ensure the celebration was a success. Unfortunately Jean was unwell on the day and unable to attend the event she had worked tirelessly to organise. Readers will be pleased to hear that she is now on the road to recovery. The leaders and young people in the Group would like to express their thanks for her hard work.

Snow scuppers Christmas Concert

The annual Humberside Police Band Christmas Concert hosted by the Parish Council fell foul of the bad weather in December. The heavy snow caused widespread disruption, leading to a last minute postponement of the band's planned performance at Elloughton Village Hall.

The good news is that the concert has been rescheduled for Saturday 8th January, so disappointed ticket holders will be able to enjoy the festive performance in the New Year.

Tickets are still available priced £5 from the Parish Council Office on 665600.

Musical finale for teacher's farewell

Brough School's Deputy Head Teacher David Rowland has retired after 38 years at the same school. He taught his final lesson in December in the same building he stepped into as a young man back in 1972. His is a remarkable achievement and one that truly deserves recognition.

For some time now Mr Rowland has been a real-life legend at the school. Over the years he has taught thousands of children – and their children after them. Ex-pupils returning to the school as parents often enquire if Mr Rowland is still teaching at Brough as they have fond memories of him from the time they spent there.

Of Mr Rowland's many achievements he is perhaps best known for his musical prowess. Under his guidance the band and choir have won top awards at music festivals. His ability to help children to develop their confidence is almost magical, coaxing them into performing with amazing talent.

He has taught numerous children to play instruments and sing, leading countless assemblies with his repertoire of songs. Under his influence many unlikely youngsters have found themselves singing solos or taking the lead in a musical. Some have even been inspired to become professional musicians later in life.

The school musicals directed by Mr Rowland have provided many memorable moments, with Joseph And His Technicolour Dream Coat being amongst the favourites. This Christmas Brough enjoyed The Sound of Music, a first for the school and sadly the last for Mr Rowland. What a finale!

Elloughton School is in the 'Pink'

Elloughton School continued its fund raising efforts for Breast Cancer Care with a 'Pink' evening in October. The event was held in celebration of the life of the late Mrs Kennedy, a popular teacher at the school.

Local businesses and crafts people held stalls selling jewellery, gifts and cakes. The highlight of the evening was a fashion show and £2229 was raised for the charity.

Northern exposure in Brough

The Brough In Bloom team have come up with a surprising fund raising scheme. Their 'naked' calendar is on now on sale in local Post Offices, Morrisons, The Half Moon Pub, Serendipity, Cafe Indulge, Lamour, and Barclays Bank. Proceeds from sales will go towards a re-vamp of Brough crossroads.

Residents felt the cold in December when Brough and Elloughton were hit by extreme weather. Temperatures plummeted as low as -10°C in places with snow falling to a depth of 45cm. Half of this fell in just one night, leaving many roads impassable.

Exhibition goes down a storm

The 2010 Art & Photography Exhibition sponsored by the Parish Council was a great success again with a very high standard of exhibitors.

Now in its third year, the weekend long event has become a landmark in the community's cultural calendar. This time the most popular exhibit by public vote went to After The Storm by Lillian Harris, a watercolour of a fishing boat at sea. Lillian is pictured below with her winning painting and the trophy.

The under 16's category was won by Hannah Greatham with Highland Cow.

Bands wanted for festival

Fake Festivals comes to Brough again this year and submissions are invited from original and cover bands to support the main acts.

"The 2011 tour will have a few new twists," says festival organiser Jez Lee. "We are encouraging professionals from the music and entertainment industry to attend this year making it a great opportunity for support acts. There is also a cash prize to be won!"

Aspiring artists can apply at <http://www.fakefestivals.co.uk> by providing some information about their act and a sample track. The submission deadline is 30th January and chosen acts will be notified in February. The Brough Fake Festival will be held at Blackburn Leisure Social Club on Saturday 14th May.

Footpath refurbishment is light work with help from BAE Systems

BAE Systems has joined forces with Elloughton-cum-Brough Parish Council and the East Riding of Yorkshire Council to provide Brough with a safer footpath in time for the winter.

BAE Systems, the Parish Council and East Riding of Yorkshire Council all contributed funds to provide street lighting along the footpath leading from Saltgrounds Road to the Railway Station. At the same time, ERYC undertook the task of resurfacing the footpath.

Jane Smith, Clerk to the Parish Council, said, "We are delighted to be working in partnership with BAE systems and the East Riding of Yorkshire Council to provide essential lighting and resurfacing".

The footpath is a popular shortcut for pedestrians using the railway station and the footbridge and has fallen into disrepair over recent years.

Graham Holmes, Head of Safety & Facilities Management at BAE Systems, Brough said, "We are dedicated to providing a safe environment for our employees and supporting our local community. The intention is to provide a safer footpath for everyone, especially as we approach the winter months."

Café's birthday indulgence

Since first opening its doors in March last year, Café Indulge on Skillings Lane in Brough has become a popular place to eat and meet. Owners Jo Walker and Tina Calcutt pride themselves on serving quality homemade fare in family orientated surroundings.

In addition to their cakes which have proved to be a huge attraction, the café serves lunches, breakfasts and specials and is open seven days a week.

To celebrate its forthcoming birthday one lucky reader can win a £20 voucher to spend at Café Indulge. Just answer this question: What birthday will Café Indulge celebrate this year? For details of where to send your answer and closing date see back page.

A busy Lifestyle reaps rewards

The effort and hard work put in over last summer by village youngsters has paid dividends for those who took part. The Brough and Elloughton Lifestyle teams did astoundingly well scooping top prizes at a glittering awards ceremony held at Hull City Hall in November.

From Elloughton School Team Galaxy members Emily Harris, Georgia Hirst and Jasmeet Shoker won a trip to Silverstone Formula 1 race track.

Three teams from Brough School The Blood Brothers, The Wonky Wombats and

The Green Girls all won a PGL adventure trip to France. As an added reward, because they had impressed the judges so much, they will also enjoy two day trips to Disneyland Paris and MGM studios.

Emily's recovery is an inspiration

Emily Cramphorn, 16, has won the award for 'Most Inspirational Recovery' at a ceremony held by 'b-eat', the UK's leading charity for people suffering from eating disorders and their families.

The awards ceremony took place on 6th December at the House of Commons. Emily attended after being shortlisted with two other finalists. She was nominated for the award by friends and family following her recovery from Anorexia.

Emily suffered from the disease for a number years. She said, "The catalyst for my eating disorder was probably being bullied at school which began when I was 10 years old."

"As a result," she explained, "I felt under pressure to be the best and to be perfect".

Happily Emily is now healthy and is grateful for the support of her friends and family. She has in turn provided support and inspiration for other sufferers.

Emily from Welton hopes to be a young ambassador for b-eat and has ambitions to become a psychiatrist.

Inspiration: Emily clutches her b-eat award at the ceremony in December.

Author Clive Ashman held a book signing in Sainsbury's in Brough to promote his crime-thriller MOSAIC: The Pavement That Walked.

The novel is a cracking tale spinning two narrative threads which intertwine across the centuries – one set in the 1940s and the other in late Roman times. The plot is based on historical fact and much of the action takes place in locations that will be familiar to residents. The story revolves around the mysterious disappearance of a Roman mosaic from a Brantingham quarry.

Four groups get festival funds

The team behind Elloughton-cum-Brough Scarecrow Festival have donated the monies raised to local charitable organisations.

Cheque it out: (L-R) Tony Barker from Brough Voluntary Action with Alicia and Josie from the Scarecrow Festival team and volunteers from BVA.

A cheque for £400 was presented to Brough Voluntary Action. Dove House also received a cheque for £400 for their Love You 2 appeal. The Brough Methodist Church Building Appeal was awarded a further £100 and £50 went to Brough in Bloom.

Staff and children from Elloughton Private Day Nursery donned spots for Children In Need 2010. Together they raised £40 as part of the nationwide event.

Don't delay - have your say!

Development of the Parish Council's Community Led Plan (CLP) is now underway. A Steering Group comprising members of the community and representation from the Parish Council has been formed to oversee the process.

The group needs additional members and interest is welcomed from individuals, community groups and local business. Our village has seen radical changes in recent years. With further proposals in the pipeline it is now more important than ever before that members of the community become involved in the decisions which will shape its future.

The CLP is an inclusive process with the aim of improving the social, economic, environmental and cultural well being of the local community. This will involve consultation with as wide a cross section of the community as possible with the aim of creating a vision of the future and an action plan to help achieve it.

The Steering Group meets monthly at the Petuarua Centre in Brough. If you would like to contribute please come along. For more information contact Cllr Coleen Gill on 666924 or Jane Smith, Clerk to the Parish Council, at the Parish Council office on 665600.

In addition to new members, any organisation that can offer assistance will be welcomed. Whether it is distributing leaflets or attending occasional community events, there are many ways in which interested parties can get involved. You will be helping to shape a better future for our community in Elloughton and Brough.

POLICE REPORT

Humberside Police issued a warning for residents to be on their guard against cold callers offering free or very cheap burglar alarm systems. Offers of a free survey lead to a home visit by sales representatives who have used high pressure tactics to persuade householders to sign up to a monitoring service costing thousands of pounds.

Callers have made deceptive statements, claiming to be associated with the local council or Crime Stoppers.

Trading Standards advise that anyone receiving such calls should be on their guard. If you are considering such a purchase then carry out research and obtain at least three quotations to compare.

If a sales rep does visit your home and you want them to leave you should tell them. It is a criminal offence for a salesperson to remain in your home after you have told them to leave.

Residents are also advised to register with the Telephone Preferences Service on 0845 070070 – a free service for opting out of unsolicited sales or marketing calls.

Brough and Elloughton dancers are well placed

Students at local dance school RS Dance have enjoyed another string of outstanding achievements over the past twelve months.

Charlotte Hanson and Mia Roberts have entered full time training at the Northern School of Contemporary Dance in Leeds and the Scottish School of Contemporary Dance in Dundee respectively. Both girls trained at RS Dance from a very early age.

Other notable achievements include Louise North and Abigail Newhall who secured places on the Northern Ballet Theatre's CAT programme. Lucy Simpson, Erin Wincup, Laura Credland and Grace Newman secured four of only 16 places on the NBT Associate programme. Competition was fierce with over 400 taking part.

Amy Bentley was awarded a place on the Royal Ballet Junior Associates programme. Several other students received commendations in auditions.

RS Dance holds classes throughout the week at Brough Community Centre and Elloughton Village Hall. For more details contact Rachel Salmon on 665227 or info@rsdance.co.uk.
